

LICT CORPORATION

ROBERT E. DOLAN
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

October 15, 2007

To all our LICT Shareholders,

LICT Corporation has for some time shared with you our plans to spin-off certain assets to simplify our business. This should enhance our public market value.

Enclosed is an "information statement" regarding our new company called CIBL, Inc., which will shortly be spun off from LICT. Next, you will receive one share of CIBL for each share of LICT you own on October 29, the record date for this transaction.

CIBL will own certain of LICT's cable television operations, cellular and broadcast television interests, and several other assets that should flourish in a separate company. In addition, the spin-off of these properties will allow LICT itself to focus more closely on its core operations, at a time when these operations present great opportunities and challenges.

I hope you will take the time to read the information statement carefully. The transaction it describes is an important step in our continuing effort to maximize LICT's value for our owners.

If you have any questions about CIBL or its spin-off from LICT, I invite you to contact us. We will be happy to answer any questions you may have about the transaction, and how we believe it will contribute to the value of your LICT (and CIBL) shareholdings.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Dolan
